A four-bedroom semi-detached house in Meisho Hills, Sierra Blanca, with four bathrooms and a guest toilet, arranged over multiple levels and connected by a lift. The ground floor offers open-plan living, dining and kitchen areas opening onto a private terrace and pool, along with two ensuite guest bedrooms; the first floor is dedicated to a principal suite and an additional guest ensuite. A rooftop solarium with jacuzzi and barbecue enjoys open sea and mountain views, while the lower level includes a wine cellar, laundry room and direct access to private parking for up to three cars. Recently renovated in a Scandinavian style with underfloor heating throughout, the property sits within a secure gated community offering privacy, shared spa and gym facilities, and convenient access to Marbella town and the Golden Mile.
